History of The Friends of The Library

The Friends of The Henry Carter Hull Library was formed in 1962 by a group of 6 people who sought to assist the library in its community services. In their first year the Friends established a book delivery and pick-up service for shut-ins and patients in convalescent homes. In the summer of 1963 they held their first book sale and the proceeds were used to purchase a movie projector for the children's room.

Over the years the annual book sale became a fixture in town, and the Friends used the profits to purchase music, movies, office equipment, and funded live music, author visits, gardening programs and much more.

The book sale is now ongoing, with books being donated and sold continually. These funds recently purchased the lovely new purple library cards; paid for Children's music and Summer Reading programs, and Adult Programs; and provided Book Page magazine.
