

Tips and How To's

Once your membership has been activated and the program has started you can access your account and record books.

To record books, simply click the Record Your Reading button. Enter the author's name and the title of the book. Optionally, you can add the ISBN number located on the barcode on the back of the book. Adding the ISBN number will allow the system to add a picture of the book when you view your status.

Clicking the Review Your Current Status button will bring up a list of books you have read and recorded.

The Recommended Title List will bring you to our current Book Buzz recommendations.

The New York Times Best Sellers Fiction and New York Times Best Sellers Nonfiction buttons will keep you up to date with the week's latest best seller lists.

Having trouble finding something to read? Click the What Others are Reading button to get a list of books other people have read and enjoyed.

You can record your reading up until March 31st, the last day of the program. Accounts can be activated until March 15th. Make sure you redeem your raffle tickets by the end of each month in order to enter for the prizes. Raffle tickets can be picked up at anytime at the reference desk. Just bring your library card with you.

We hope you enjoy the program. If you have any further questions please email nicole@hchlibrary.org.

Bunches of Books

Adult Reading Program

Winter 2012

Inside this Guide

- What it's About
- How to Register
- Tips and How To's

The Henry Carter Hull Library

10 Killingworth Turnpike

Clinton, CT 06413

860- 669-2342

Visit us online at www.hchlibrary.org

What it's About

The Henry Carter Hull Library is pleased to present our first adult online reading program. The program will run from January 1st to March 31st. In order to participate you will need to register online. The link can be found on our homepage www.hchlibrary.org starting December 15th. Simply click the link and follow the instructions. More information on this can be found on the opposite page.

Bunches of Books encourages you to read as much as you can, fiction, non-fiction, science fiction, even audio books, whatever you like with the exception of magazines. Once you finish a book, login to your account through the reading program link, or go directly to <http://www.libraryinsight.com/rplogon.asp?jx=cn&rp=629>, and record your book. Be sure to rate the book and leave a review if you want to. For every two books you read you will be awarded a raffle ticket. Raffle tickets can be picked up at the reference desk. These tickets can be used towards our monthly prizes. Simply put the raffle ticket in the bucket for the prize you want. At the end of the month, a winning raffle ticket will be randomly picked for each prize. So the more you read and record, the better your chances are for winning.

How to Register

Registration begins December 15th. You can register on this day or any day up until March 15th.

To register:

- Go to our homepage starting December 15th and click on the Bunches of Books adult online reading program link.
- Click the sign up button on the right side of the page.
- Enter your first name, last name, library card number (the 14 number barcode on your card), and create a pin number or password. Email and telephone number are optional.
- Once you have registered, stop by the reference desk with your library card to have your account activated.

Once you have registered and your account has been activated, you can start recording books as soon as January 1st.

